Introductory Track Workshops:

First time participants have the opportunity to consider these topics:

- One's view of God determines his ideas concerning government, education, economics, and all questions related to today's society.
- Biblical principles which effect change in the home, church, school, and nation.
- Methods by which the Scriptural originals of a subject may be researched.
- Teaching methods which cultivate reflection and reasoning.

Advanced Track Workshops:

Each year, experienced speakers present individual workshops. These sessions are designed to provide practical, inspirational topics to illustrate:

- Christianity's power to produce internal and external liberty.
- The influence of Christianity in all spheres.
- Restoring our republic by cultivating leadership in the rising generation.
- The mission of the home in a Christian republic, and practical guidelines for fulfilling that mission.
- Applying the Principle Approach to American Christian Education in teaching methods and curriculum.

Participant Comments – 2007 Annual Conference

"This year's conference has been excellent, because it has been so practical and applicable. Home and family is at the heart of Biblical teaching."

"A wonderful example of how God can build Christian character in an individual and use him to accomplish great things for the glory of God."

"I have been challenged to concentrate on Biblical reasoning. I plan to use 4Ring for my own personal study in the Word and to do a better job in extending that into my teaching."

Workshop taught "how to better develop ideas, ask questions and give my children a love and excitement for literature."

"I am learning about God's unseen/untaught hand in the history of our nation."
