

Katherine Dang Bio

Katherine Dang, President

Philomath Foundation

KATHERINE DANG, President and founder of Philomath Foundation, is a Chinese-American, residing in Pleasanton, California. She is an author, editor, consultant and a featured speaker in Christian History study groups, home-school support groups, seminars and conferences. With a Bachelor of Arts in History from the University of California, Berkeley, she entered the ministry of American Christian Education at American Heritage Christian School in Hayward, California, under the able leadership of Mr. James B. Rose, then Headmaster. From 1979-1995, she was the Administrative Director of Chinese Christian Schools, which she helped found and establish. She has classroom teaching experience spanning levels from elementary through adult in a wide range of subjects: Bible, history, geography, English grammar, literature, science, government, economics and mathematics. Miss Dang is the author of several articles published in A Guide to American Christian Education for the Home and School: The Principle Approach, by James B. Rose. She has completed and published two of four Universal History volumes: Ancient History – Law Without Liberty and Middle History – The Law of Liberty. www.Philomathpub.com